Assessments & Forecast

1. The anniversary protests are being held amid heightened tensions due to Israel’s operations targeting Hezbollah in Lebanon during the ongoing Israel-Hamas conflict, with tensions exacerbated following the killing of Hezbollah’s Secretary General, Hassan Nasrallah, during its strike on Hezbollah’s Central Headquarters in Beirut on September 27.

Canada & USA

1. Pro-Palestinian protest activity in North America seemingly gained momentum in the past week, with protests reported across major cities in the USA and Canada, not only in solidarity with Palestinians, but also in support of Lebanon. The protests were largely held to demand a ceasefire and denounce US support for Israel’s military offensive in Gaza and against the Israeli airstrikes in Lebanon, which are part of the Israel Defense Forces (IDF) offensive against Hezbollah. Protesters are also demanding that the US government impose an arms embargo on Israel.
2. FORECAST: Given the prevalent tensions, the precedent of protests in support of Palestine and Lebanon, including the protests held in Canada and the USA on September 27 and 29, in addition to the high levels of engagement on the social media posts calling for protests, the demonstrations are expected to draw a high turnout across major Canadian and US cities. In urban centers such as Montreal, Ottawa, and Vancouver in Canada and Cleveland, Chicago, New York, and Washington, DC in the USA, high turnouts in the low-to-mid tens of thousands is anticipated.

Meanwhile, other urban centers in North Americas are likely to draw lower turnouts ranging in the mid-to-high hundreds, each. In addition, ad-hoc pro-Palestinian protests and events can be expected on university campuses in the USA, as students return for the autumn term.

3. FORECAST: These protests are likely to include crowds engaging in provocative antisemitic sloganeering, vandalism of storefronts, landmarks, or other public infrastructure, use of pyrotechnics, burning of the Israeli or host countries' flags or effigies depicting prominent political leaders and officials, or traffic blockades on major motorways. In addition, vandalism of companies perceived to be complicit in the Israel-Hamas conflict, particularly defense manufacturing firms, remains likely.
4. FORECAST: In response to the heightened Pro-Palestinian protest activity, there is a credible potential for pro-Israel counter-protests on the same days. They are likely to be held around key public squares, mosques, synagogues, or other Jewish buildings, government buildings, and Israeli diplomatic missions in major cities. Spontaneous and planned counter-protests specifically aimed at disrupting these events can be expected. These protests have the potential to turn violent with participants engaging in clashes and vandalism destroying property. Given these circumstances, the bolstered security measures, including riot police, can be expected to be deployed at the pro-Palestinian and pro-Israel protests to mitigate unrest and violence. In the cases of security forces using forcible measures such as tear gas and batons to disperse the crowds, there is potential for clashes between the protesters and security personnel.

Mexico

1. FORECAST: The upcoming demonstrations in Mexico City are likely to witness a turnout in the high hundreds-to-mid thousands and carry a latent risk for clashes based on precedent from previous protests on August 3 and on May 29 in Mexico City. Ad-hoc protests can also be expected outside the US and Israeli Embassies in Mexico City. Consequently, a bolstered security presence can be expected near all protest locations, regardless of the potential for them to escalate, to monitor proceedings, and establish ad-hoc road closures. Security forces can be expected to use forcible measures such as tear gas and batons to disperse the crowds.

South America

1. FORECAST: Based on previous Pro-Palestinian demonstrations in Chile on June 9, 2024; in Ecuador on March 8, 2024; and Venezuela on March 2, the upcoming protest actions across the South American countries are likely to draw turnouts in the mid-to-high hundreds.
2. FORECAST: These protests are likely to transpire peacefully, without any instances of major unrest. That said, a bolstered security presence can be expected near all protest locations, regardless of the potential for them to escalate, to monitor proceedings, and establish ad-hoc road closures. In addition, significant disruptions to vehicular and pedestrian traffic can be expected near the slated protest locations.

Recommendations

1. Those residing or operating in Canada and the USA on October 5-6 are advised to maintain heightened vigilance in the aforementioned locations due to the risk of civil unrest and potential vandalism incidents near Israeli diplomatic buildings, synagogues, and other Jewish establishments during the 'International Day of Action for Palestine'.
2. Israeli and Jewish individuals residing or operating in Canada and the USA on October 5-6 are advised to keep a low profile in the public sphere due to the tensions resulting from the Israel-Gaza conflict. Consider keeping a low profile and limiting the wearing or presenting of overt signs or symbols associated with Judaism or Israel. Those that wear the traditional Jewish head covering (kippah), are advised to consider wearing an additional head covering, such as a baseball cap.
3. Those residing or operating in Chile, Ecuador, Mexico, and Venezuela on October 5-6 are advised to allot for disruptions to vehicular and pedestrian traffic due to the slated demonstrations.
