Israel Tactical: Authorities issue poor air quality warning for January 27, 28; remain cognizant, adhere to authorities' directives

Current Situation:

- The Ministry of Environmental Protection and the Ministry of Health issued a poor air quality warning for central and southern Israel for January 27-28 and advised sensitive populations and the general population to avoid strenuous outdoor physical activity.
- They stated that the poor air quality is due to increased levels of dust, transported by southwestern winds from North Africa towards Israel.
